NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO MOTHERS.

In a country where the rearing of infants is attended with somewhat exceptional difficulties and risk owing partly to climatic reasons, and partly to the difficulty of getting medical assistance in the 'camp,' an apology is hardly needed for publishing a small hand-book on the subject for the use of mothers. In Dr. Pennel's book on Infant Feeding an attempt has been made to explain in simple terms the reasons on which the various rules and recommendations are based, in order that a mother in modifying her child's diet from time to time as required, may be guided by common sense and not by the hundred and one conflicting counsels, with which she will be assailed. On sale at all bookstalls and libraries.

Telegrams

(Per Havas Agency.)

United Kingdom

London, 6th—Reports from Cape Town all agree in asserting that the situation in the Transvaal is steadily improving and that business generally is already even better than ever.

There are many telegrams passing daily now between the Government of the United States and that of Venezuela. It is known that the former has advised the latter to avoid any fresh difficulties with European Powers in reference to disputed territory.

From Constantinople comes the news that a conspiracy against the reigning dynasty has been discovered, and that the Sultan Abdul Hamid has imprisoned the ex-Minister Mourad Pasha on the charge of high-treason. It is added that another high state-functionary is also about to be arrested as one of the conspirators.

Germany

Berlin, 6th—The Reichstag has returned to Committee the Bill embodying the new Civil Code compiled under Government direction. The committee had reported most favourably on the original draft.

Italy

Rome, 6th—Colonel Pittaluga, who has recently arrived from Eritrea, held a long conference yesterday with Prime Minister Crispi and Mocenni the Minister of War. The two Ministers decided to send the Colonel on an important mission to General Baratieri. Colonel Pittaluga will leave for Abyssinia on Saturday. Troops have been sent to the small town of Salu Monferrato to prevent any fresh disorders on accouut of the fresh tax on victuals.

Nothing fresh has transpired respecting the march of events in Africa, and the utmost secrecy is maintained at the War Office. Press telegrams are also carefully revised, to prevent false alarms. In military circles it is asserted now that 5,000 men will be despatched to General Baratieri during the next fortnight.

The only news published from Massauah is that the Abyssinians have reached Aoussa without any opposition being offered to their onward march. A considerable amount of excitement has been caused in that town by the advance of the enemy.

France

Paris, 6th—The delay of the Brazilian Government in settling the Amapa Question is giving rise to a great deal of comment here. The Jonenal des Debats, Le Figaro, La France, La Politique Coloniale, Le Temps and others insist on the French Government immediately settling the matter. All the papers argue that the present delays are unworthy of the Brazizilian Government and are derogatory to the prestige of France. It is added in political quarters that the Minister of Foreign Affairs shares this opinion and that he has telegraphed to-day to the French Minister in Rio imparting energetic instructions previous to adopting a more forcible course to impress on Brazil the immediate necessity of settling the vexed question.

The relations between France and Italy have much improved recently. The Italian papers now recognize that the French Government has acted properly throughout in reference to the war in Abyssinia.

According to accounts received from Rome the resolution taken by Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria to force his son and heir into the Russian Church against the desire of the Pope, has caused considerable disapproval in the Vatican.

To-day's telegrams represent the Pope as de-ermined to ex-communicate Princc Ferdinand as soon as Princo Boris haa been received into the neighbouring fold, and that the news has created quite a sensation in Sofia.

Spain

Madrid, 6th. — A telegram just received at the War Office from Habana reports a fresh defeat inflicted on the insurgents in the Province of Matanzas. On the rebel side 35 were killed and many wounded. General Marin in his despatchts represents the rebels as disheartened and expresses the opinion that the total collapse of the insurrection is much nearer at hand than is generally supposed abroad.

Russia

St. Petersburg, 6th.—It is announced from Seul that the Japanese Minister in Corea has succeeded in obtaining the dismissal of all the public functionaries of any importance, who were supposed to be partizans of Russia. This news has caused some surprise and irritation in official circles here.

Turkey

Constantinople, 6th—Another visit of the Khedive of Egypt to the Sultan very shortly, is announced, and it is asserted that the object of his visit is to concert measures with the Sublime Porte to bring about the evacuation of Egypt by the British troops as soon as possible.

Chile

Valparaiso, 6th—Exchange on London is quoted at 17 5/8.

Don Diego de Alvear leaves to-day for Lima with a party of young Chilians on a pleasure trip, which will probably last a month.

It is rumoured that the National Guard will not be mobilized until next April.

Brazil.

Twenty eight cases of cholera occurred yesterday.

The State of Minas Geraes has raised a loan of four thousand contos for public works.

(Special Service of the Diario.)

United Kingdom

London, 6th—The trial of the officers and leaders who took part in the recent Transvaal disturbance began yesterday in Pretoria.

It is asserted that King Menelik is dangerously ill and that the Abyssinian Army is retreating on this account.

United States

New York, 6th—All the papers are trying to bring their influence to bear on the Government to recognise the belligerency of the Cuban rebels.

The subscriptions for one hundred millions of dollars in Treasury Bonds have given very satisfactory results 368 millions being applied for.

ANOTHER LITTLE DIFFICULTY.

We regret to say that another diminutive black cloud is looming on the already threatening horizon of the British Foreign Office. Certainly not as important as the Venezuela difficulty, which evoked the bugbear of a new Monroe Doctrine, nor as critical as a Jameson raid that evoked the offensive telegram of the German Kaiser—no, it is a mere speck, no bigger than a man's hand, but it rises in the River Plate quarter, it comes from Paraguay.

What a wonderful focus of the world the British Foreign Office is—no commotion can take place in any quarter of this globe but British interests are affected, and the action of the British Foreign Office must be brought to bear on it in some shape or other. Even in Mediterranean Paraguay the "Civis Britanni cus sum" must resound with the same pride and emphasis as Civis Romanus of old. It is no longer a Washburn or a Hokkins that clamours for redress to Washington: it is a British subject, Mr. Busk, who appeals to Downing Street.

Before entering into the details of this latest little difficulty, we may be pardoned if we make a slight digression, with a view of drawing a moral from recent events that have so much disturbed British equanimity. In the last three months we have witnessed a series of events that testify to the widespread interests that Great Britain has to protect and foster all over the world—vide Venezuela, Nicaragua, Transvaal. Mekong, Ashantee, Armenia, the Far East, Egypt, etc., etc.—nothing less could be expected in an empire on which the sun never sets. But does it not strike one very forcibly that in this rapid, extraordinary succession of difficulties, British diplomacy is virtually condemned as short-sighted by the very hostility that is arrayed against England.

But we have wandered from our theme—let us get back to Paraguay—a little country that has made a lot of history from the days of the Basque Ayala to those of the Jesuits with their commonwealth, to those of the Saxon Lane with New Australia and Communism. The case in point, in which the action of the British Foreign Office is summoned, involves a financial and a personal question—the ruin of a joint-stock company and the arbitrary imprisonment and ill-treatment of a British subject. In our humble opinion the latter is the serious side of the difficulty. We can only give one side of the question—we can offer no opinion, whether Mr. Busk is right, the Paraguayan Government wrong—but from a mellowed experience of affairs in these latitudes, especially diplomatic affairs, we may inform the British Foreign Office that with a little tact, a little common sense—as suggested by Gladstone in the Venezuelan difficulty—many of these difficulties, in the River Plate at least, can, if not be avoided, at least be smoothed over; it is a question of men and of "savoir faire."

As presented to the British Foreign Office, the following are the features of this latest difficulty under the tropic of Capricorn:—

In 1889 the Bank of Paraguay and Rio de la Plata was founded by a Syndicate in Buenos Aires and the Paraguayan Government. The Syndicate were to subscribe £400,000 towards the capital of the Bank, for which they were to receive proportionate shares. The subscription of the Syndicate was to be in money, that of the Government was to be in the form of a bond to be negotiated by the Syndicate when they thought convenient. The bank was duly opened. The Syndicate fulfilled its obligations, but although the Government received the stipulated amount of shares, it did not deliver to the Syndicate the Bond until many months afterwards. When the Syndicate received the Bond they forwarded it to Mr. A. Busk in London for him to negotiate it. After much difficulty the sale of the Bond was effected, but the Government refused to ratify the sale. When the Government did finally accept the sale the credit of the country was in very low water owing to the Baring Crisis.

This want of faith on the part of the Paraguayan Government was the main cause of the ruin of the Bank. Together with this bond was another one of £160,000, direct property of the Government, which they sent to Mr. Busk asking him to negotiate it. This was duly done the same as the previous one. The Paraguayan Government next asked this same gentleman to negotiate these Bonds without any commission, offering to refund any expenses he might go to, but he never received one brass farthing for all his trouble.

Mr. Busk returned to Paraguay in 1893 to settle with the Government as to the indemnity for its behaviour to the Syndicate.

Although the Government did not deny its responsibility, yet it shirked and delayed all payment. In March, 1895, the Paraguayan Government did its utmost to force Mr. Busk to deliver to them the bond, threatening to imprison him if he did not accede. Mr. Busk refused to do this and was finally thrown into prison!! The outrage was illegal in every sense of the word. But the Paraguayan Government found that it could not get the Bond from Mr. Busk, so he was set at liberty again.

The Syndicate lost some £250,000, as the Government never paid a penny into the Bank.

The reason for Mr. Busk's claim for apology and reparation is. That the Government pretended that he had illegally retained the Bond, which they also pretended was their property, and they induced the Commercial Judge to order Mr. Busk's arrest. These facts were cabled to all parts, making it appear that this gentleman was imprisoned for criminally retaining in his possession Government property to the value of £400,000. The very fact of Mr. Busk's being arrested (although the charge was an infamous libel) was sufficient to ruin his reputation.

Mr. Busk understood from the Bank that had he succumbed to the intimidation of the Government and yielded the bond to it, they (the bank) would have embargoed all his property and sued him for the full £400,000. The British Consul in Asuncion declared to several witnessess that he never saw anyone so badly treated as Mr. Busk.

It was suggested to Mr. Busk that he should see the authorities, but this is absurd, as the Government is the responsible party.

The Judge who ordered Mr. Busk's imprisonment was only a tool in the hands of the Paraguayan Government, as he did precisely what he was ordered to do, whether the order was legal or not. So corrupt are the judges, says Mr. Busk, that they give sentence in favour of the party who happens to have the bigger purse!!!

Mr. Busk cites the case of Mr. Henry George. His case was much weaker than Mr. Busk's, but the wording of the apology was: "H.B.M.'s Government is sincerely sorry that any annoyance should have been caused to a gentlemen such as Mr. Henry George is, who has done so much for Ireland."

Mr. Busk says: "I have done a hundred times as much for this country, and used my money freely, far too freely, for its interests, in explorations and opening it up. etc. If the United States of America can protect its citizens and force England to apologise for such a small matter as that of Mr. Henry George, how much more so ought England to demand reparation for me in the present case of such infinitely greater import." Doubtless numbers of other cases could be cited proving that it is the bounden duty of England to take action in the matter.

This is the only time Mr. Busk has requested the services of his country, but on the other hand, he has had the honour to be of service to it, and holds the South African medal for fighting in the Zulu War.

The general opinion of consuls and foreigners in Paraguay is that the British Government is bound to demand an apology and indemnity on Mr. Busk's behalf.

If the British Government refuses to take the necessary steps in this matter, then it need not be surprised at its subjects being at the mercy of lawless governments.

THE RAILWAYS AND THE CROPS.

We are much indebted to the courtesy of the managers of the several railways for the appended figures of the quantities of cereals carried on their lines during 1895, accompanied by their remarks as to the probable carriage in 1896:

Central Argentine Railway.

This trunk line, which runs through the most populous farming zones, carried during 1895—

Wheat, bran and flour	382,843 tons
Barley	8,512 "
Maize	302,797 "
Linseed	58,558 "

With regard to the probable yield of 1896, it is expected that wheat alone will amount to 700,000 tons or more. Of the other grains no information is forthcoming.

Buenos Ayres Great Southern Railway.

Memo. of the total weight in metrical tons of maize and wheat despatched from stations upon the F. C. Sud during the year ended 31st December, 1895:—

	Metrical Tons
Maize	107,497
Wheat	136,345

N. B.—The weight of the traffic from other lines passing on to the F. C. Sud is not included in the above figures, and local traffic, which has been twice moved is only included once.

E.G.—The figures for the months January to November inclusive are actual, but those for December have been estimated.

Buenos Ayres and Rosario Railway.

Figures to the end of November of the quantity of linseed, maize, and wheat carried over this railway during 1895:—

Maize	52,751 tons
Linseed	58,503 "
Wheat	177,953 "

With regard to the prospects for the current year, it is estimated the Company will carry about 188,000 tons of wheat, 73,000 tons of linseed, and 82,000 tons of maize.

Buenos Agres Western Railway.

Statement shewing quantity of wheat, maize and barley carried during the year 1895, as compared with the previous year:—

	1st Jan. to 31st December, 1894.	1st Jan. to 31st December, 1895.	Increase in the year 1895.
	Tons.	Tons.	Tons.
Maize	97866	437585	339719
Wheat	250966	229793	21173 (decrease)
Barley	3954	6910	2956
Total	352786	674288	321502

The wheat prospects along the line are very satisfactory; although a much smaller area of land has been sown, there is every probability of the yield being equal to that of the previous year; and with regard to the maize, the prospects are also exceedingly good, and it is said that 20 % more land has been put under cultivation.

Great Southern, Santa Fé and Cordoba Railway.

The quantity of grain carried by this railway during the year ending 31st Dec. 1895, is as follows:—

	Tons
Wheat...	73,500
Maize ...	40,680
Linseed..	20,174 = 134,354 tons.

The shipment of grain at the port of Villa Constitucion amounted to 149,022 tons, viz.:—67,490 tons of wheat, 62,597 tons of maize, and 18,935 tons of linseed.

The returns from stations shew that during the coming season there should be about 120,000 tons of wheat, 40,000 tons or linseed and 45,000 of maize.

Unfortunately, the stormy weather during December last did considerable damage throughout the line. In some districts the crop is entirely destroyed.

The harvesting was also delayed by the weather and the linseed, especially that already cut, suffered from the weather.

Cordoba and Rosario Railway.

This line carried during 1895 121,000 tons of cereals, wheat and linseed principally; maize is grown only in very small quantities in this zone.

The prospective yield so far as this route is concerned is very difficult to get at with any degree of accuracy, as the reports from the surrounding colonies are very conflicting. One can estimate, however, roughly, that the yield ought to be somewhere about 135,000 tons.

Buenos Ayres Pacific Railway.

Maize.....	108,261	tons
Wheat.....	49,564	„
Barley and oats.....	5,225	„
Linseed &c.....	2,633	„
	165,683	„

The foregoing figures include grain proceeding from other lines and handed to Pacific Co. for transport, as well as that loaded at Co.'s stations.

With regard to the probable wheat yield of 1896, from careful enquiries made, it would appear that while there is about the same area as last year under wheat, the yield is superior this year, and the railway may, therefore, have to deal with over 50,000 tons.

The maize plantations are in splendid condition, and with favourable circumstances there will be a much heavier tonnage than last year.

Oeste Santa-Fecino Railway.

Carriage of cereals during 1895:—

	Tons

THE PAN AMERICAN CONGRESS.

Telegrams from Washington announce that Mr. Ignacio Robles, Minister of Foreign Affairs in Ecuador, has sent the text of the proposed Pan American Congress to all the representatives of Central and South American nations in Quito. The circular is as follows:—

"Y.E's illustrious Government no doubt understands and fully appreciates the necessity of such a conference, which will tend to resolve questions of vital importance to all the present American Republics and give powerful impulse to the development of their countries. The careful study of their commerce between each other increases daily in importance, and their mutual interests, and even their security, demand that the representatives of these countries meet and discuss the matter in order to come to some arrangement with regard to the questions so closely concerning their prosperity and liberty. By acting in this way, South American nations will be clothed in a garb of more respectability, conflicts will be avoided, and peace between them and the rest of the world will be more firmly cemented.

The principal points to be submitted to and discussed by this Congress are the following:

Adoption of an American Law, which will respect every legitimate right.

Foment progress with the introduction and development of industrial Companies. Give a powerful impulse to commerce by adopting measures which will tend to extend it without hampering or in any way interfering with the interests and weltare of each country.

Finally employ every means tending to be beneficial to our Republics, and establish the commercial relations of each country on a sound basis, thereby insuring their prosperity and aggrandisment.

The Press both here and in New York attach great importance to President Alfaro's initiative and firmly believe that the proposed Congress will be a great success.

The representatives of Foreign Government applaud General Alfaro's move and are most enthusiastic over it.

MORE RED TAPE.

Buenos Aires, 4th Feb. 96.

Dear STANDARD,

It is a well known fact that General Roca, our interino President, is one of the most practical men of this country, and a staunch friend of the export traders in particular, since this trade is the sinew, and back bone of this country. However the export trade of cereals is hampered in such a disgraceful way by the incapacity of the Oficina de Movimiento del Puerto that President Roca would do well to send the whole precious staff of it to Jericho. The head of that office says that he has not locomotives enough to drag the waggons loaded with cereals alongside the loading steamers. We know for sure now that the Catalinas Co. as well as the Ensenada Co. volunteered to do this without any extra remuneration—but cannot get the permit to do it. At least the Ensenada Co has not got it, and there we have hundreds and hundreds of waggons waiting their turn after having been brought up by the Ensenada Co. to Puerto Madero to be carried alongside the loading vessels by the engines of the Oficina de Movimiento del Puerto, which in the best of cases means three days' demurage in the Port. The consequence of all this is extra lay days by the steamers, and more terrible lay days yet by the Railway Cos. all due to the incapacity of the aforesaid Oficina del Movimiento del Puerto. Thousands and thousands of dollars are paid daily by the merchants for lay days of waggons. So we most humbly beg President Roca to order at once this Oficina del Movimiento to allow all the Railway Companies to enter the Port with the waggons loaded with cereals, and leave those wagons alongside the vessels for which they are destined.

Truly yours,

A Cereal Merchant

LONDON AND PARIS.

A COMPARISON.

Por un Ingles.

Amongst the many excellent precepts engrafted on the mind of the youthful Britisher by medium of the copy-book is the admonition that comparisons are usually made to the detriment of one side, but in the case of the capitals of the two great nations, a comparison may fairly be made, as these two immense centres of life and movement are as different and distinct in their tendencies as the two national characters, moulded by the difference of climate and nature of the soil and conformation of the country, each playing their peculiar and distinct parts in the civilized world.

London may be compared to the man and Paris to the woman. The comparison may safely be made from many points of view—religious, political, social, commercial, as also regarding their history, architecture and statuary.

The geographical position of France is singularly unique—a small territory, as compared with the vast expanse of the more recently civilized portions of this planet, she possesses a symmetry of form distinctly feminine. While the North, Pas de Calais, Picardy and Flanders is flat, monotonous country, with sluggish rivers, where one finds a tall, fair race of beer drinkers, very weak tipple, the South, say in the neighborhood of Marseilles, is populated by a dark-complexioned, fiery people, wine consumers, with all the characteristics of a semi-tropical race. These two extremes, with many intermediate degrees, meet in the common capital and make of Paris what she has always been, is, and always will be: a city of extremes, beautiful, fickle and contradictory, where one meets with the severest frugality and ploddishness—the Auvergnat, for example, side-by-side with the most ingenious variations of folly and extravagance of thought and action, result of robust frames and skilful feeding.

A café is having great success there at present where the apparent object is to make its clients as gloomy as possible. The drinks are served on coffins by individuals dressed as mutes. The place is fitted up with all kinds of allusions to death and decay. Among other sad amusements is a perpendicular sarcophagus, in which any person placing himself by an ingenious arrangement, aided by electricity, dissolves from view and is replaced by a grinning skeleton. The illusion is so realistic that in spite of one's reason there is an involuntary feeling of relief when the person reappears in the flesh, alive and well—"Café des Neants" near the Moulin Rouge.

The Parisian possesses a brilliant and vivid conception of all that is beautiful and artistic in nature, prompted doubtlessly by the magnificent suburbs of his Capital, St. Cloud, Versailles, Fontainebleau, etc. where natural advantages have been improved in every possible manner.

Bright, smiling, sunny, France, where everyone has a cheerful word for his neighbour, and the old folk of their villages are affectionately referred to by their christian names prefixed by Father this, or Mother that.

The feminine tendency is traceable in the politics of Madame La Republique, whose sentiment too often dominates reason and practicality among the "Rights" and "Lefts". No other country has produced such types as Charlotte Corday, who put Marat out of existence, or that political firebrand, Louise Michel, or that heroic woman Joan of Arc, who centuries ago, when France was almost entirely in the hands of the English, reanimated her countrymen by her splendid courage and succeeded in wresting her country from the invader, for which the English on capturing her, after the inhuman inquisitorial spirit of the times, burnt her as a witch at Rouen.

The two most important religious edifices in Paris are dedicated to the female, 'Notre Dame' and the 'Madeleine'. The latter reminds one of the tendency of their comic literature. The most popular theme year-in year-out is the demi-monde, depicted on the boulevards "a la chasse aux lapins"—in her Chamber—at the seaside,—"En chaise"—"toujours la meme chose"—in genious allusions to her and her pursuit. Theoretically always gay, 'chic' and "spirituele". For her, new names are incessantly being coined, such as 'horizontale', "momentanee" etc. terms which are openly quoted in the dailies.

Their statuary and monuments consist largely of female subjects—witness the magnificent statue of the Republic in the place du Chateau D'Eau, the modest little equestrian statue of Jeanne d'Arc, and the splendid group of female figures round the Place de la Concorde, representing the fortresses and ports of La France.

The Mussulman says: "There is only one God and Mahomet is his prophet", so it might also be said there is only one Venus de Milo, and Paris is its resting place; that beautiful statue which is universally admitted to be the ideal form of womanhood. A well-known Argentine scientist advances the theory that this statue originally had the figure of a child on its shoulders. Has this ever been thought of in Europe?

And the student, on finishing his term in the quartier Latin, where does he fly to in the first place? why to Mére Moreau, "pour manger une prune", a well-known establishment behind the Chatelet Theatre; the old lady must have joined the majority years ago, but the shop with its immense glass jars of preserved fruits still remains on the banks of the Seine.

And who is the confidant of the young man, even in his amours—his mother!

Commercially, among the middle class, it is quite customary to find the wife associated with her husband in his business, her maiden name appearing with his above the shop front, joined by a hyphen.

Paris reigns supreme in feminine attire, as the great house of Worth and others can testify. As also in all articles relating to the boudoir powders, perfumes etc.

The bright splendour of Parisian architecture is remarkable, owing to the scale on which it is constructed, the absence of smoke, and a Municipal law by which proprietors are obliged to wash their buildings periodically.

Along the banks of the Seine, from the Place de la Concorde to Notre Dame, is a series of palatial edifices, and the bridges over the river, in some cases centuries old look as if they had been built yesterday.

THE NEW YORK LIFE AGAIN.

Unfathomable surely is the true history of the New York Life Insurance Company's connection with the insurance legislation of the past year here in Brazil. It will not stand investigation. It is full of contradictions, of cross purposes, of concealed motives. It is creditable neither to the company, nor to the Brazilian legislator.

In the New York Times of December 10th last some extracts were made from our comments on this subject of November 12th, and to these was appended the following interview with the president of that company:—

John A. McCall: president of the New York Life Insurance Company, having had his attention called to the new insurance law passed in Brazil and the publications in The Rio News of November 12 said that the New York Life had notified its representatives that if the law passed it would not consent to do new business in Brazil thereafter. Such notification was sent. "Notwithstanding the protests of both the American companies," Mr. McCall said. "the law was passed, and, pursuant to the notification then given, the New York Life will cease to contract new business in Brazil after the close of this year. It will, of course, maintain its agency there for the collection of old premiums and the payment of claims against it, but it will not issue new policies."

We had hoped never to refer to this mysterious intrigue again. The interests of two important American companies have been sacrificed by it, the credit of the Brazilian Congress has been smirched, and the safety of life insurance in Brazil has been undermined. President McCall says that his representatives were notified that if the law passed the New York Life would do no more new business, and yet the columns of the local press are full of denials that he had ever given such notification, and of promises not to withdraw in case the bill under discussion should become law. Here, for instance, is a sample of the statements made, a telegram from Mr. Sanchez on July 3rd and published over the names of Messrs. Darlot and Hasselman:

You are authorized to publish that New York Life will not withdraw from Brazil if laws at present before the Chambers pass, and that it is entirely false that my interests and those of the New York are opposed.

From this it will be seen that the notification was not attended to, and as the same representatives are still in charge of the company's business here, it is clear that they have never been punished for their refusal to obey orders.

Mr. McCall also says: "Pursuant to the notification then given, the New York Life will cease to contract new business in Brazil," etc. When given? No such notice was ever given until November 5th, and then the reason given, over Mr. Sanchez's signature, was that a tax of 5 per cent. on the premiums paid in had been engrafted on the bill in second reading, and had become part of the law. And to further excuse his withdrawal, he explained how delicate a process it is to organize the tables of premiums, when even the babies know that a 5 per cent tax can be added without any such reorganization! When the amendment was offered, Mr. Sanchez made no protest; he smothered all his fears and repressed his desperate intentions until the bill had been safely towed into port with the President's signature attached, and then he waited a few days more, so that he might not seem precipitate, and then on November 5th—the last day allowed for a declaration of intention—he sorrowfully notified the public that the New York Life would accept no more new business!

And then, a few days later, Messrs. Sanchez, Darlot, Hasselman and other representatives of the retiring company announced to the public that they had organized a national company, to be known as the "Sud-America", whose risks could be re-insured in foreign companies and whose surplus could be exported for investment! The foreign companies, it should be remembered, were not permitted to send the surplus of their Brazilian insurances out of Brazil, while Mr. Sanchez's new company, organized under the patronage of the New York Life and by its representatives, is permitted to do so! If there is no treachery and intrigue in this, then our reasoning is sorely at fault.

Mr. McCall also says: "Notwithstanding the protests of 'both' the American companies, the law was passed." When and where did the New York Life ever protest against the project under discussion? We remember its promises to accept the law, its defence of the project, and its fulsome praise of the intelligence and patriotism of Congress. And we even remember a memorial presented to Congress and published in the press, signed by over three hundred New York policyholders at the solicitation of that company's representatives, favoring the projected legislation! Surely this is not the way to protest! The Equitable did protest, and used all its influence and every available argument to defeat the bill. And then when the bill became law the Equitable withdrew honorably from the country, and leaves no pinchbeck* national company behind it to occupy a field from which it had expelled a competitor through so base an intrigue! It is to be feared that Mr. McCall knows all this as well as any of us down here, and in all probability he is beginning to realize that—

Ding-Dong, Ding-d-o-n-g. O yes! O yes! Way for the Celts. The phoenix arises from its ashes or rather from its embers, as the fire only slumbered, awaking again to its sphere of activity and destruction. The prey is the redoubtable team of rovers, yclept Bohemians, the scene still "in nubibus" pending polite insinuation with one of the popular local secretaries, and the date, the 16th inst., Carnival Sunday. The U. I. T. has been after mature consideration reorganized on the basis of its umpire, a tower in the fullest acceptation, superior to all petty considerations of common-place principle or puling sentiment; neither squeamish nor straitlaced, he can be counted on for any emergency—the good old sort, of the good old time when a gentleman's word was his bond and all doubts were settled by the trigger-finger. With such a solid foundation much may be expected. Then the bowling department has been scrupulously revised, pruned and strengthened, fresh blood introduced and the trundling reduced to a mathematical quantity; the batting, of course has always been the distinguishing feature of the team and needed but slight amendment, whilst the wicket-keeping and fielding would make even the Australians grow cold with chagrin. All that could humanly be done to ensure victory has been gone into and carried through with an unfailing perseverance that cannot fail to bring its reward. The team nevertheless is as reluctant as ever to vaunt its merits or hold its opponents too cheap, but there are times when the pride of power refuses to brook restraint. Van Tromp and his broom are likely to be revived again. As history is made so does it repeat itself. The names of the gentlemen forming the respective teams and other momentous particulars will be published in due course.

LA PLATA.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Feb. 6th.

The Bemberg concession of land in the pert for a grain warehouse should tomorrow be discussed in the Chamber of Deputies.

The town of Arrecifes has been startled by a savage attack made on the Inspector of Police. A man named Gerez was recently imprisoned. Yesterday two friends appeared and demanded his release. The Inspector told them it was impossible. They then and there flew at him with knives and riding-whips but thanks to the presence of a policeman who wounded one of them by a revolver-shot, the inspector escaped with his life.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The funeral service for the late lamented Dr. del Valle was the only thing that kept the town moving a bit yesterday. It was in every sense a great and solemn demonstration. President Roca and ex-President Pellegrini were there, and indeed, so were all the leading men of the city of all political creeds. Soul-stirring news was conspicuous by its absence. The Gold Eagle was still stuck in the mud, eyeing the Bears in a furtively hostile way. The departure of the R. M. S. Nile was attended with the usual osculation; but no lady fainted, nor did any male passenger lose or leave behind his hatcase or umbrella, an accident generally productive of much amusement to his fellow travellers, if the loser is sufficiently fussy and excited over the mishap.

That miserable little Khedive of Egypt (Far more miserable than Webster the lawyer,) is giving trouble again. He is going to pay the Unspeakable another visit to hatch a plot to get our troops out of Egypt. The chances are that he will be bundled out himself very much previously. The ridiculous little scamp!!

The Minister of War received the following important telegram yesterday from the Argentine Minister in London:—

"The cruiser Buenos Aires is at Newcastle completing her preparations to sail; and her commander expects to leave for Buenos Aires at the end of the month

Luis Dominguez."

Our Chilian friends are getting the war dander up. In one of the swell Clubs in Santiago the other night a high-life "joven" made an even bet of $5,000 that war would break out with Argentina before the month of April. This young gentleman must have some "superior information," always a bad thing in these latitudes.

Mr. Thurburn, Manager of the London and R. P. Bank, left last night for Mar del Plata with his family, to join the madding crowd there. Our senior editor's secretary, Dr. McNally, arrived back yesterday after listening for a month to what the wild waves had to say to him. He looks 45 years younger, and has a secret mission for the widow with the stays and gloves in hand.

Dr. Dardo Rocha is expected here today. At Mendoza he received a tremendous ovation from the people, which proves that the grapy Mendocinos do not consider that he quite failed in his mission to those hard nuts to crack, the Bolivians.

Telegrams to the War Office yesterday reported that the thirty Krupp batteries bought in Germany were being shipped in Hamburg. They will be here in a month.

We have the best of good news from Dr. Cotton's new baths at the Puente del Inca. They are in full swing and are crowded with all kinds of shaky and done-up patients from Chile, Argentina, Peru, Bolivia and Lordnoeswhere. All the poor devils are recovering fast, and say their prayers three times a day for Dr. Cotton, whose venture in the heart of the Andes has proved a phenomenal success.

Drs. Posse and Barraza have carefully examined the mental faculties of Mrs. Porth and report that she shows no sign of madness, her confinement in the Asylum being moreover prejudicial to her health. Mr. Porth the lady's husband, has now been summoned to appear to-day before the Magistrate. It is very re-assuring to see how thoroughly the case—one of extreme importance to us all—is being investigated.

Police Magistrate Gallegos has decided that Messrs. Novaro and Ibaldi have no legal cause for complaint because they are being shadowed by detectives on suspicion of being not just as good citizens as they might be. No doubt it must be slightly disagreeable to have a policeman in plain clothes dogging one's footsteps, but as long as personal liberty be not infringed, it must we suppose be patiently endured for the welfare of the State.

The benefit at Wirth's Circus to Missss Marizles and Edith and Mr. Eldred takes place to-morrow night and the programme is excellent and includes most of the arts in which these artists have made themselves so popular, in addition to which the three will appear in the "Race for the Rose" and Mr. Eldred will do his marvellous treble somersault over twelve horses. The races which always proves so exciting, will conclude the grand programme.

The diplomatic plot is thickening in much-abused Europe. The Unspeakable is shaking under his fez lest England and the United States really mean "to go for" him about the Armenian question. He promises to pay the price current in the market for the average North American missionary, butchered or badgered, if Jonathan only keeep on his own hook; but if his ships join John's in a demonstration, the Sublime One fears a general rising in Armenia (fostered probably by his new ally the R. B). Emperor William has sent his brother Prince Henry to Rome to arrange an interview with King Humbert for him. Imperial William finds that he is no match for Lord Salisbury at diplomatic chess, so wants to have a private palaver with Humbert, who, under hints from the portly Cecil (who must be laughing in his sleeve at the way in which he has shaken up the whole world recently) fights shy of the interview. The smashing of the Triple Alliance will be rather a high price for Germany to pay for that Imperial telegram to "Uncle Paul." The Cecil's promising nephew Arthur, First Lord of the Treasury, made a grand speech on Monday night in that pious city, Bristol, in favour of John and Jooathan keeping shoulder to shoulder in coming events.

Here is a valuable hint for any one who wants to colonize an imaginary concession of mountainous land. Two years ago a prophet broke out in New Zealand, and, after predicting the destruction of the world by water, gave forth that there was a certain mountain in South Africa whereon a chosen few could find safety. A number of misguided lunatics followed him, after providing him with large sums of money.

We received the following sprightly communication yesterday from a well known sartorial corner in Grafton Street. That Mar del Plata widow has a lot to answer for :—

Dear STANDARD,

"The following breezy paragraph, taken from another humorous English paper, should convince you that the lightly-clad widow at Mar del Plata, about whom we have heard quite a lot recently, is, to tell the naked truth, simply "not in it :"

"Dear Mr. Fun.—As a decent man with a growing family, I write, in the interests of morality, to enquire if you consider it proper for the august lady at the head of our nation—a nation, sir, upon whose empire, I am informed, the sun never sets—to behave in the way it is reported she does? A contemporary announces: "The Queen wears nothing but black gloves."

"Surely no lady will "go better" than this!"

Yours truly,
An Advocate of Dress.
(when purchased for cash)

"Etcetera" is the newest fashionable name for whiskey at Montevideo, at least so we are led to infer from the following hint given by our British daily contemporary there:—"We are pleased to hear that a goodly list of entries has been received for the approaching Lawn Tennis Tournament. Competitors are advised that it is intended to commence play this (Wednesday) afternoon at 4.30 p.m. Tea, etc, (please note the "etc.") will be provided by the Tennis Captain and Hon. Secretary conjointly."

Public preparations for the Carnival Corso were commenced yesterday in Calle Callao. There won't be even a scrap of novelty in the illuminations. The same old one-pipe arch across the streets, "y nada mas." Some desperate effort ought to be made to have a little novelty and artistic taste introduced in the get up of our "only street," the Avenida de Mayo.

The following extract from an exchange will interest old shipping subscribers:—"The many friends of 'Old Woolward,' late Captain of the Royal Mail steamer Don and commodore of the Company's fleet, will regret to learn that serious reverses of a pecuniary nature have overtaken him. The Port of Spain Gazette makes the announcement that the savings of many years of Captain Woolward have been lost in a business in which he embarked. By latest accounts he was employed in a manufactory in England in an ordinary capacity. A subscription among his old friends and admirers had been started with the intention of presenting him with a purse."

We might have got on better in the world but for one pardonable weakness. Never, in the course of our editorial career have we been equal to refusing a lady's request. "Ergo", we say "with the greatest of pleasure" as answer to the following "billet doux" from a fair subscriber, requesting us to publish the admirable speech of Mr. Bayard, the United States Ambassador in London, at the Actors' Fund Banquet. We must, however, hold it for to-morrow or next day's issue, as we have no space to-day.

Dearest STANDARD—"If the enclosed is considered worthy of a corner in your delightful paper, it will oblige a Yorkshire lady living in Quilmes—and echo the thoughts and sentiments of a great many English-speaking people.

Our friend Jacobsen, who holds the lucrative post of Purveyor General to the STANDARD Library, has had his tender heart wrung by the letter of N. N. anent the shortcomings of the English Literary Society, and writes to us that he has determined to start an E. L. S. of his own at his venerable bookstore, where the members of the parent institution will be welcome to sit down in the reading room upstairs and peruse all the latest papers, free, gratis and for nothing, with the additional attraction of a cup of our friends' Feeney and Co's famous Ceylon tea, at 5 o'clock. This liberality fairly beats our old friend the barber who used to ask people to just even think, that "he'd shave them for nothing and give them a drink."

"What's the news from Rosario"? you ask. Echo answers:—"We have bidden our friend Mr Stanley Gay farewell, as he leaves next week for England to recruit his failing health. For reasons best known to each person, the members of the Anglican Church were conspicuous by their absence at the meeting called. In view of this manifest utter want of interest, the Select Vestry have decided to hold a meeting on the 21st with those who care to attend. "Los comentarios al lector". A Rowing Club will shortly be inaugurated at Cordoba. We learn that several changes will shortly take place in the staff of the British Bank of South America. The Board of Stewards of the American Church are happy to report that through the liberality of generous donors the year closes with all the accounts of the Church in a satisfactory state. The Municipality of Rosario has refused to exonerate the Anglican Church from the payment of dues."

There will be a very interesting scientific seance given on Sunday evening next, in the Bon Marche saloon in Calle Florida, by those talented gentlemen Drs. Simeone and Haft, in which they will use the Microscope to reveal the wonders of Zoology, Anatomy, Embriology, Botany, etc. To prevent disappointment, it would be as well to announce previously whether the word "etcetera" is to be taken in its new Montevidean sense. If so, there will be a terrific crowd.

The band of H.M.S. Beagle played that fine old air "The Girl I left behind me" on Tuesday as she steamed away from Montevideo, homeward bound for old England. The Acorn will shortly follow her.

There will be a rush to the old "Cri" in Grafton Street to-day, as the "plat du jour" is turtle, the real thing, no mock about it; turtle soup, turtle steaks, turtle chops, boiled, roast, fried and stewed turtle in all shapes and sizes.

The Honble Mr. Buchanan, the U.S. Minister to Buenos Aires, who is now in Montevideo for a short visit, accompanied by his wife and daughters, was entertained at dinner on Sunday last by the U.S. Vice-Consul Mr. T. Howard, at his charming quinta at Pocitos. Amongst the other guests were the U.S. Admiral Norton, and Mrs. Norton, the German Consul Sr. Marheinecke and his wife, the U. S. Minister Mr G Stuart and his wife. Captain Stirling and several other officers from the U. S. squadron, the Misses Nina Baring, Maud Stuart, Rafaela Arrien, Messrs. Wright, J. Christophersen, E. B. Vaillant, T. R. Howard, etc. We need hardly say that a very pleasant time was passed.

But for the Isthmus of Panama, North and South America could not be held together for an hour, so it is an important place, and we always take off our hat when we hear from it. Yesterday we had exchanges to January 9th. Squads of navvies continue to arrive from Jamaica for the Canal works. The news from San Salvador is that owing to the fact that Ezeta's invading force is still out at sea between La Libertad and Acajutla, seeking a chance to land, the government has increased the army to a war footing. Several seditious plots have been discovered and the government has declared the republic in a state of siege. The peace throughout the country is undisturbed as yet. Bogota appears not to be quite up to Christian date. Small pox prevails there now, and the unfortunate sick are taken to the hospitals in the vasura carts!!

In spite of Mausers and other modern weapons, the Cuban rebels hold the same good old views of fighting as Wellington and his Generals in the long war against France that ended on the immortal field of Waterloo. "There is nothing like cold steel" was the creed of the British Army then, and, we are much inclined to think, is so still. The following paragraph from a letter from Perez Carbo, a member of General Maceo's staff, to a friend in New York, shows the Cuban system of fighting. The world at large will hardly approve of the "beheading" business:—"Four Spanish columns, we understand, were sent to intercept us, though only one put in an appearance. This one came in sight near Soledad at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Maceo wheeled his forces to the right, threw out wings to right and left, and calmly waited the advance. A few volleys from rifles and an occasional charge of canister from the artillery were sent in our direction, but met with no response. No movement on our part was made until the enemy were within twenty metres of the General and his staff. Then Maceo sang out "Al machete", and off with their heads!" The instant our trumpets repeated, the fusillade stopped; the Spanish column wheeled to the right and made off in the direction of Guanamaro, Tunas. But they carried with them another lesson in Cuban warfare."

Gold Premium.

FIRST RING 218.50%
SECOND RING..... 217.30%

Another sudden whisk in the speculative wheel changed the whole aspect of the gold market to-day. The transition this morning was violent, and the fluctuations this week may be compared to Jack in-the-Box antics, and the market is growing more cautious than ever, a strong under-current of suspicion running through the speculation. It was argued that the requirements of the packet put up the premium, but this is a thread-bare argument and carries no weight.

About one million dollars changed hands at the first gold ring. Business for cash was under the average, only three hundred thousand dollars sold; the premium opened at 217%, rose violently, and closed at 218.50%. A quarter of a million was sold for the end of the month; the premium opened at 220.50%, rose to 221.50 %, and closed at 221%. About two hundred thousand dollars were sold for Saturday, the premium closing nominally at 218.30%. Business for the fortnightly settlement embraced eighty thousand dollars; the premium opened at 218% and closed at 219.50%. One hundred thousand dollars were sold for the end of March, the premium closing at 224.50%. Something was done for April at 226.50%.

National Cedulas F advanced to 80.50, but only a small business transacted. La Plata Cedulas were dead-and-alive at 17.30. Depositors' Bonds of the National Bank were steady at 98 and Catalinas dragged at 3.20 and 3.30,

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

$ 299,500 for cash at 317-317.20-318-317 50-70-80-50-80-50-60-50-60-80 318-318.50-30-50.

One of our well-known shipping firms called a meeting of creditors to-day, and we understand that the business involved runs into large figures.

With regard to the fundamental changes impending at the great Banking corner we understand that they are limited to the advent of the German Bank and the removal of the London Bank to its new wing. No other changes will take place, unless an extension of the precincts of the London and Brazilian Bank. We suppose that the old precincts of the German will be now placed on the market. If we are not mistaken the German Bank paid the National Bank for the site that will soon be vacated the round amount of $106,000 gold; to this we must add the cost of the building erected by architect Moog. We see that the property is most valuable and we do not suppose that the German Bank will let it go under half a million of shinplasters.

48¼ 5/16d. on London.
5.09 fcs. on France.
5.10 fcs. on Belgium.
4.12½ marks on Germany.

Paper rules in sharp demand. Paper discounts are steady at 8%, gold nominal at 7%.

Telegrams from Rio Janeiro to-day quoted exchange on London at 9 3/32d. Same as yesterday. No change in the rate in Valparaiso.

As the Cordobese Executive has apparently turned its deaf ear to the grain exporters' petition for re-consideration of the license of their receiving clerks, the Camara del Comercio of Rosario will be asked to jog the auditory nerves of the government on the point. Love's labour lost. Not all the accumulated condensed influence of all the commercial chambers in the Republic will bring about the deletion of the obnoxious tax, though the insinuated intention of the exporters to boycott Cordoba if redress is not forthcoming may have the desired effect. This tax business is becoming a social problem and difficulty up country.

On the 1st, 2nd and 3rd March there will be a rural fair and auction of live stock in Bolivar, Messrs. Olivera and Co. having charge of the arrangements and carriage of sale. Most of the estancieros of the neighbourhood will lend a hand and send exhibits.

Messrs. Peña and Co.'s saladeros, San Luis and San Juan, which have been idle for some time back, will re-start working.

to the inquisition of a reporter's keen probe, says that he considers the depression in the trade at present purely momentary, due principally to the low prices ruling in English markets, as Argentine mutton is of such good quality that it is at times sold for Scotch—a high distinction. The cause of the low prices now ruling he attributes to very keen competition, and still more so to the law that expressly orders slaughter at port of landing, which causes frequent gluts that the butchers are only too glad to take advantage of, and to this can be traced the seeming anomaly of prices at different ports on same day for same type of animal being altogether out of proportion. The exporter wound up with the declaration that though the trade is doing very little at present, in very many instances estancieros are shipping for their own (estancieros') account, through the agency or medium of exporters, though naturally the results are noi always satisfactory, to say nothing of brilliaut, and until the instantaneous slaughter clause is amended, there is little hope of permanent, solid improvement. The dead-lock threatening with France does not cause much apprehension, as it is quite palpable that it is a move of the butchers to ward off competition. The gist of the exporter's views, therefore, is, that although the actual depression is temporary, a really solid impulse must wait on the repeal of the present provisions in force in England against the poor Argentine wether.

The salient feature of this week's Agricultura is an article on Santa Cruz—the penal settlement, river, lakes, tablelands, and cordillera—beautifully illustrated, a Stanleyian trip through one of the most interesting, virgin tracts of the Far South. The article is admirably written, and with the South unrolling so rapidly, will not fail to attract attention. The other articles deal with the French ultimatum to Argentine wethers, wines, pure and otherwise, the phylloxera, immigration, etc., all to the point, a remark equally applicable to the cost and working of an estancia in San Luis, considered as the model for the solution of a problem. The number is one of the best our colleague has yet distributed, which is saying a good deal.

The financial condition of Santa-Fé was so terribly leaky that a great deal of cargo and ballast had to be hoisted over board to lighten the ship, with the result that the latter now begins to ride easier. The first item that went by the board was a nice square stretch of land handed over to the Banco Agricola to get rid of the incubus of a blood-sucking guarantee on cedulas, and now we see that the Government has arranged about its railways—the latter being such an awful strain, with the pipes open, that had some arrangement not been come to it would have swamped the labouring ship altogether. There is no reason to suppose that the Government has neglected any opportunity of securing the best terms possible in putting things to right, and, however much the conditions of the various arrangements may be cavilled at, as they actually are, the ship had to be righted at any cost. It was a necessary evil, an unavoidable means of restoring equilibrium.

The message in which the Santa Fe Government lays before the Chambers the terms of arrangement with the bondholders of the railways are briefly as follows: "The French and English bondholders take over the lines, handing back to Government the total amount of bonds issued for construction, receiving as only compensation 3 millions of dollars in Morgan bonds. The bondholders, furthermore, undertake to return to Government 3 millions bonds paid for guarantee and accept Government intervention in fixing tariffs, the in latter no case ever to exceed those of the B. Aires Southern.

To get a correct idea of the mess in which this railway business had immersed the Governmennt it is necessary to review some of the antecedents. As is well known, to pay for the construction of the 2000 kilometres 25 millions of bonds were floated in Europe. When built the lines were leased to the French Company for 55 years, the Government guaranteeing 5 % interest on the capital employed; but as the working never gave more than 1¾ % the province had to make good $912,500 gold per annum or say $4,562,000 in bonds, the Government not having the gold at command to make good the deficit. Thus the continuance of the arrangement meant an awful incubus for the province, and in order to cut it short the present arrangement was proposed and carried through. The Government gets back its $25,000,000 bonds and 3,000,000 paid on foot of guarantee, is released from latter altogether, and by way of compensation gives the bondholders 3 millions in Morgan Bonds. It is a bad business well ended. A heroic remedy for a growing cancer.

The advices from Tucuman report the balance-sheet of the Provincial bank out—a glorious document. And then comes a grand flourish of trumpets and flare-up of verbal fireworks over the prosperity of the institution, while all its other provincial colleagues hide their heads with shame, blinded with the debris of their own ruin. We have not the balance-sheet at hand to hold an inquest on this apotheosis, but there seems to be a very cheerful glow about the few items that have come down over the wire, to wit: $2,284,000 bad debts wiped out, reserve fund increased, to $2,643,000 paper and $55,714 gold and the most genial item of all, $560,935 available for dividends. Truly if there is a crisis in Tucuman the bank has been able to hold aloof. With regard to the choke-up in sugar there seems to be general jubilation over the smash-up of the Bounty Bill, and hopes are confidently expected that the corner will now soon be turned, a syndicate having been formed composed of Messrs Paz, Bustamante, Moreno and Bemberg, to export a total of 120,000 bags in months of February and March. It is very significant to see the parties really interested in the sugar industry decrying the nefarious bounty bill, and this should be a lesson to Government to inquire very sedulously and proceed very cautiously in future in similar emergencies.

Telegrams from New York announce that the new issue of £20,000,000 in 4 % United States coin bonds has been a splendid success, covered six times over. The application of J. P. Morgan alone covered the whole amount applied for, and at 10 % premium. Only a month ago doubts were expressed in London as to the success of this new issue, for we read in the London Economist of 11th ult.:—"It is impossible to say at present what success is likely to attend the new issue of £20,000,000 4 per cent. United States coin bonds for which a popular subscription has been invited. Even, however, if it is found possible to place the whole of the amount, it is doubtful whether the gold reserve of the Treasury will be strengthened anything like that extent. What is much more probable is, that the gold with which to pay for the bonds, or at all events the later instalments of the purchase money, will be drawn from the Treasury itself. And even if the Treasury gets the gold it wants, it will most certainly be as unable to retain it as it has been to keep the proceeds of previous issues, more especially as the season is approaching when, in ordinary course, gold tends to flow from the States to this side, and any attempt to counteract that by sales of American securities here is, in existing circumstances, foredoomed to failure. At best, therefore, the loan can prove only a very temporary palliative, which will leave the currency troubles as grave and menacing as before."

Gold ruled dull and weak at the second ring. All the firm features of the morning vanished as if by magic. One hundred thousand gold dollars were sold for delivery to-morrow: the premium opened at 218.30 %, touched 218½ %, fell rapidly and closed at 217.30 % flat. Fifty thousand dollars were sold for the end of the month, the premium closing at 220 %. Something was done for end of March at 224 and 223¼ % premium. Nothing was done in stocks or shares, but National Cedulas F were in demand at the morning rate, no sellers.

In Mr. Ventura Martinez Campos' report on the Union Industrial Argentino, we see that this institution is progressing very favorably. At the last meeting it was proposed to start a Banco Industrial, to meet and help the interests of farmers. The project was at once voted, it being a question of such vital importance to Argentine industry. The museum belonging to this institution is one of the best in South America, and Mr. V. Campos in his resumen compliments our friend and collaborateur Don Carlos Lix Klett on the energy he has displayed as secretary of the administration. The interest that this gentleman takes in everything concerning agriculturs is a well known fact.

Two tenders have been sent in for supplying Cardiff coal to the Movimiento Department of the Madero Port, to wit:
Sociedad Carbonera 69,000 tons at $5
Worms, Jesse & Co. " " " $5.90

The Government has approved the measurement of the Centro Agricola, Cerra-Cora, in Misiones Territory, carried out by engineer Queirel.

Veterinary Surgeon Henry C. Pages has been named Veterinary Doctor of the Live Stock Inspection Office ot the Madero Port.

The Finance Minister has authorized the Administrator of Internal Taxes to call for tenders for the following "fajas":

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

Messrs. Funes and Lagos lost to-day one of their oldest and most appreciated employees, Mr. Charles Leonardi, a familiar figure in the yard and a general favorite. Hardworking, zealous and upright, he was a model employee and his early demise is much regretted. His employers, as a slight token of the respect and esteem in which they held him, undertook to defray all the expenses of interment, which takes place to-morrow.

Our reporter haunted and searched the marts unavailingly to-day. Not a single sale effected.

Mr. Adrian Penard has sold the old house in the Avenida Alvear in which he lived for so many years and which formerly belonged to General Godoy, from whom he bought it years ago for $32.000 gold. Mr. John O'Connor has bought it for $110,000 m/n. The property measures 13½ varas front by 47 varas depth and is near the corner of Callao. The three new corner houses, adjoining nearly, are the property of Mr. Pennard—they are on one of the most fashionable sites in this city, corner of the Avenida Alvear and Boulevard Callao.

Advices from Montevideo say that the broker Luis Piñeyro has sold the valuable camps of Lecoq situated at Barra de Santa Lucia, measuring 4135 squares at $43 per square, or a total of $177,805, buyers Messrs. Sanguinetti Bros., proprietors of the large dry goods store in Calle Rincon.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

Business was as shaky as it could be to-day, a fit of palsy seems to have attacked the export; consignatarios and artistas say that as long as the gold eagle is shaky they must also follow suit. The stagnation is well seen and deeply felt by owners of produce, The news from Santa Fé and Entre Rios has not improved the situation. The rain has evidently done more damage than the past scourges of locusts and storms. Poor colonists, they were already losing 30 %, to-day the percentage has reached 50. Exporters are now reduced to what is on hand. The worst part of the affair is, that holders refuse to let go until things are more settled; the market will probably change when we have received full particulars. People were greatly surprised, too, at the spurt cowhides have taken within the last 24 hours. No sellers are found under 11 dollars. The general idea is that a large firm is at the back of this.

The latest telegrams from Antwerp on the auction of Argentine wool inform us that yesterday operations opened 10 centimes higher than in the previous one; 1000 bales were sold and the same number withdrawn, Another telegram to-day reports that the auction closed with a rise of 5 centimes on the previous sales, the operations stopped at 2,000 bales, leaving still 1,000 over. Consignatarios do not consider this much of a change, and on comparing prices paid here with those paid in Antwerp they have come to the conclusion that the market has not changed. The only buyers this morning were German firms, they operated freely in all classes of wool, clearing the market of at least 300,000 kilos. The prices are at a standstill and probably wont budge till gold resumes its old position.

Sales—
Cross Lincoln wool—2200 kilos at 8.80.
Borrega cross—700 kilos at 7.80, 1000 do 7.00.
Do mixed—1000 kilos at 6.50.

The fall-off in the demand for wheat this morning threw a damper on consignatarios and farmers. We must frankly confess that we do not understand why two wet days should have the effect they have on our markets. The telegrams from Europe and our current prices here ought to be able to maintain a firm footing.

Wheat by sailing vessels is now quoted at 15 francs in Antwerp. In London, owing to the bad news from Santa Fé and Entre Rios, prices ran up to 26 shillings. The local "consumo" bought up a superior lot of French wheat at 8.30. In Rosario we hear that 300 tons in waggons were sold at 7.00, to be received outside. In the Once 200 bags of French were sold at 8.10, 315 do Barletta at 8.00 and some 800 inferior from 5.80 to 6.20.

Prices in maize offer no variation, about 1,300 bags "morocho" changed hands in the Once at 3.00 and 3.20, 1,900 bags yellow fetched in the same market from 3.30 to 3.53. In the Riachuelo 700 bags were sold at 3.55.

The arrivals of linseed are small, consequently operations are very slack. In the Darsena one lot was sold at 9.50. The heavy rains in the provinces will put back all transactions, as the farmers will have to stop the cutting for some time.

Messrs. Rocca, Terrarosa and Co. sold 5,000 salted steer hides of 31 kilos at 19.50 gold.

The effect of the rains has produced a great depression on colonists, many who were counting on good returns, having escaped the locusts, are to-day in a bad way. How are farmers to meet their contracts if in a couple of hours they find the grain in the ears already rotten? The result of this circumstance is that we will have a large stock of corn in our markets which we might say will hardly pay the freight of transport. An owner of reapers informed us yesterday that in a radius of 6 leagues round San José de la Esquina, the losses in wheat have been enormous, several colonists find that they are short of from four to five quintals per square on their previous calculations, the same has happened in several other places. From these facts, we can well understand the case that exporters do not care to enter into any business. The "fiasco" will commence when the contracts have to be met. According to the latest news, maize has also had a share in this misfortune, the losses, however, cannot be so great in this corn as in wheat and linseed, the ears of the maize being still closed and the rain only washing over without penetrating.

When will it stop! That's the cry in Rosario; evidently the rain has stepped in to increase the losses in the crops; these were already put down at 30 %, now one can add on another 10 or 15 per cent. These last rains have rotted a large quantity of wheat, in some places 20 % of the corn is destroyed. These drawbacks kill business, as now all farmers who have had the luck to have their wheat in the market hold back waiting to hear more about the losses, which if considerable will drive up prices.

A few sales were made in wheat yesterday at 7.10, 7.15 and 7.20, a contract was also signed for 1,500 quintals at 7.25, a parcel of 2,000 quintals which was offered at 6.90 last Saturday fetched 7.10.

The highest price paid for maize is still 3.15; at this rate some 2,000 bags were sold, on the condition ot placing them in the port. The "consumo" and distilleries are not operating at present. During the evening a slight reaction was noticed, but as long as gold is down we cannot expect to see much improvement.

The telegrams from Europe show great firmness in linseed; here, however, very little is done in new sales, yesterday operations did not pass 3,500 quintals, the prices paid were 9.70, 9.80 and 9.95; the buyers were principally exporters who are loading.

Little or no difference was noticed in Montevidee. Wheat sticks firm to its prices. The arrivals are very limited. A special lot of wheat from San Juan was sold at 3.40, 10 cents more than the usual rate. The other sales were 2,000 bags from San José at 2.40, 400 do from Canelones at 2.22. and some 1,420 do at 2.10, 2.20 and 2.30. Nothing new was reported in maize.

As regards freights, we hear that there is a certain "flojedad" in cargoes and prices. An American vessel was chartered to take dry hides for the United States. The only sale in the saladero line was 80 bordalesas of tallow from Messrs. P. San Martin and Sons at 905, and 100 kilos. on the board.

Wool transaction are increasing; in fact, the sales yesterday nearly beat those of Buenos Ayres. In the barracas 300,000 kilos were sold, from various districts, at 2.40 and 2.50. In the deposits and "feria" the following were sold:—40,000 kilos. from Minas at 2.45; 4,500 do from Nico Perez at 2.30; 3,000 do from Durazno at 2.47. The other sales amounted to 67,000 kilos., fetching, on an average, 2.35.

A sale of 1,000 "becerro" dry hides was effected at a reserved price; the news leaked out that they are for North America.

"The bright, moving picture of the country's trade, commerce and production on the opening year consoles us with the conviction that its future is superior to human error and independent of individual influence."

The above lines, quoted from THE STANDARD of 3rd inst., are the true expression of our sentiments respecting the present position and expected future of the country, if we are to judge from what has occurred to us, as a minute fraction in its common wealth, during the year that has expired, and the hopeful advent of the new one on which we have entered.

If we take our branch of trade, and instance our business in particular, we have to admit that the prospects as regards the country at large are not at all exaggerated in the transcript we have made us of, as the increase in our concern has been beyond our most sanguine expectations during the old year, and, on the eve of the new one, promise is given of a very satisfactory augmentation.

To keep pace, therefore, with this hopeful state of affairs we have made ample provision, and our stock, which is always kept in adequate supply, will be periodically increased with every novelty to meet the increasing requirements of the year.

A solemn Requiem Mass for the repose of the soul of the late Edward Casey, of Arroyo Luna, will be celebrated in the Parish Church of Salto, on the 7th of February, at 10 a.m. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

RIVER STEAMERS.

Eolo and Golondrina arrive from Montevideo to-morrow; the former leaves in the afternoon for the same port.

The Comercio on her voyage to Salto, on Tuesday the 4th was steaming through the reach known as the Paso de Marquez between Mercedes and Fray Bentos, when she struck on the sunken wreck of the sailing-craft Coriolano no part of which is visible above the water. When the accident occurred considerable confusion occurred on board the Comercio owing to the severity of the shock and before the engines could be reversed, the river-boat collided with the Nueva Teresa anchored near the wreck and engaged in her salvage. This craft received considerable damage from the Comercio; but happily no one was injured on board either boat.

GENERAL.

For the past two days an ocean-going sailing vessel has been seen to be aground on the Banco Chico, though who the stranger may be, has not transpired. Various agents of shipping companies have pointed out the existing anomaly that the port-pilots should be under the supervision of the Custom-house instead of the Maritime Prefecture—contending very reasonably that were the latter responsible for the pilot-service far better guarantees would be offered for the welfare of both vessels and their crews.

The ss. Gellivara to-day entered the Cibils Dock of Montevideo to replace her screw injured when in the port of Rio. The new one was brought out by the Cyrene which lately arrived from England.

The Marthara should to-morrow be accorded free pratique, when she will go on up the river.

The war-transport Villarino arrived to-day from the Southern ports and entered the Madero Port.

The Helga shifted to-day from the Riachuelo to the Basin to load.

The following communications correct certain statements that appeared in our last issue in this column:—

Buenos Airds, 6th Feb., 1896.

To the Editor of the STANDARD.

Dear Sir.

Ss. Iona.—It is clearly evident to us that your La Plata Representative did not visit the above named steamer or he would not have written the paragraph that appears in your to-day's issue, as follows:—

"Such an immense number of stock on vessels not especially constructed for the purpose are, however, to be much condemned."

We have to inform you that this steamer, together with all the others of the Thomson Line, have been specially constructed for the live-stock carrying trade, fitted with mechanical ventilating fans, electric light for the lower holds and every convenience for the safe carriage of cattle. We enclose statistics of the last season between Montreal and United Kingdom, from which you will see the extremely small mortality on steamers of this Line.

Steamship	Shipped		Mortality (All Causes)

Iona.....c	1339	5873	3	38
	8565	31227	17	120

Equivalent to a mortality rate (from all causes whatever) of

·2, or one fifth of one per cent. on Cattle.

·56 or four sevenths of one per cent. on Sheep.

·53 or one third of one per cent. on Horses.

Seasons 1892 to 1895.—

	Cattle Shipped	Cattle Lost (All Causes)
Fourtia Years..	107,086	655

Equivalent to a mortality of 61, or three-fifths of one per cent. of total number carried.

We have been foremost in inducing owners of suitable Cattle Steamers to send their boats in this direction, but in view of the many difficulties lately, viz: the want of accommodation in the Docks, the slow delivery of cargo by the Railway Companies, obstacles placed in the way by Inspectors, shippers offering all sorts of objections, this all causes an immense amount of delay, and the value of the Steamers being about £50 per day it is very unlikely they will again visit our shores unless some definite arrangement is come to by the Government.

We would suggest that several Inspectors be employed, as there is more work than one can do and say 10 days before the Steamer is ready he should go on board and give a certificate stating how many the vessel can carry, we should then be able to give the shippers definite instructions how many to bring in, we would rather pay a fee for this than be left as at present:—the Inspector will not come on board until the Steamer is at the Embarcadero, and after measuring allows the loading to commence, and it is just possible that he may have reduced the number we estimated for by twenty to thirty head. This is annoying to both the Shippers and the Steamer's Agent, but what can the latter do, as he has to give 8 days' notice to enable the Shipper to get his live stock in.

We are, Dear Sirs,
Yours truly
Houlder Brothers & Co.

La Plata, Feb. 5th. 1896.

To Editor of the STANDARD.

Dear Mr. Editor,

As some attention has been drawn lately in the papers to the delay of the s.s Iona in shipping her live stock, perhaps you would be interested in the following statements from an impartial outsider.

The s.s. Iona is a very fine steamer specially constructed for the live stock trade, and has been running on the Canadian route. She carries in all this voyage 840 cattle and 500 sheep.

As regards the loading I must state that the delays incurred are not the fault of the ship, as the Captain and officers have all been most attentive, and eager to forward the work.

Messrs. J. Lean and Co. who are shipping to-morrow on the lower deck about 300 cattle have told me that they are perfectly satisfied with everything on board.

They (Messrs Lean and Co.) have 260 cattle which they are consigning to Deptford for Mr. John Brown, Estanciero, which are a very nice lot, and also 42 special novillos averaging from 810 to 850 kilos which they are shipping on their own account.

Both lots arrived by rail in perfect condition and have all been well atiended to, in the embarcadero of Zavalle and Co.

If shippers would take more interest in their stock, and personally superintend the loading, there would be fewer complaints on all sides, and less delays.

I am, Dear Mr. Editor,
Yours truly,
Outsider.

GENERAL.

Mr. Roberts, the Manager of the Western Railway, held to-day an interview with Dr. Frers, the Minister of Public Works, at which were discussed the question of providing tarpauling for grain piled in the open air on the platform of the port, the permanence for days of loaded wagons and the cargo-tariffs for this port.

The Drummond and Morven began today to take in live-stock at the Rio Santiago mole and should both be ready to leave to-morrow afternoon.

A great improvement is noticeable in the rapidity with which wagons are now being unloaded and the work may at last be considered to be up to date though as many as 150 wagons arrive in the day. With the exception of one firm, all the exporters of maize have agreed to pay the Western Railway for the use of tarpaulings to cover their grain lying in the open air awaiting shipment.

The German ss. Coringa should to-morrow begin to load live-stock for account of the firm of Lenguas.

The R.M.S. Nile did not get away today till 6 p.m. Señor Portela, the Argentine Minister in Rio, was one of her passengers. The Nile took 12,693 bags of maize, 282 boxes of butter, 110 do. of fruit and 631 tons of jerked beef.

The s.s, City of Lincoln and Wolff should to-morrow be berthed alongside the Rio Santiago mole to receive live stock.

The Iona will probably get away tomorrow afternoon with her Noah's arks load of live stock. Complaints are heard of the salty character of the water in the paddock where the cattle for export are kept previous to loading, but it would surprise many of our City-bred exporters if they were to taste what the Argentine steer is accustomed to in his native haunts.
